MIDRASH WITH THE RABBI-Knowledge for the believer

The Magical Talit (Prayer Shawl)

In the Torah we are told to make a special garment with fringes (tassels) which are to hang from the borders of the garment (1). We are also told to include a band of blue ribbon in the garment as well. But what is this mysterious garment for? The Torah explains or gives us a few reasons for the garments existence. The garment is only worn so that we will remember and not forget to obey the commandments of the Adonai Elo'heyenu (Lord our G-d) (2). The garment is mostly worn during prayer, but we find of no other occasions in which it was commanded to be worn. Today some Christian televangelists have seemed to miss this important factor. Some have even made claims that the prayer shawl which we call a Ta'lit must be used to heal people? The annual Fall Feast

Inspirational Reading

In this month we share with you on our three annual moedim (a). The first of our three feasts for the fall begins with what is called Rosh ha shanah (b). During this time we are to observe the listening of G-ds Shofar (trumpet, rams horn) blow. In Israel the Shofar is said to be blown one hundred times on this day. In some Jewish and in messianic congregations the same is applied. But what is the spiritual connection for this special day for a believer? Believe it or not the B'rit ha dasha (NC) explains to us (c) that at the sound of G-ds Shofar call is a time where every believer will see the Messiah appear in the air. It is also a time where the body of the Messiah will be raptured, snatched up or swept away from the coming judgment which will happen upon the earth (d). Preceding this feast the second one in line will be Yom Kippur. Here we are reminded about how the Messiah took away our sins by becoming our atoning sacrifice. He was both our scapegoat and atonement for our sins, and on this day we remember to pay homage and give respect and thanks to G-d for all that he has done for us though our Messiah (e.) It is also during this time that many Jewish people seek out doing good deeds to make up for their failures and short comings in obeying G-ds word. In the future the prophets have proclaimed that the nation of Israel will one day be cleansed from its national sin. This will happen
